

20 years of CellMech

26-29 Sept 2023, Marseille, FR

For its 20th anniversary, the CellMech meeting will bring together junior and senior researchers from the various fields of physics, biology, mathematics and engineering to discuss the origins, roles and consequences of mechanical signals in biological systems. The program will offer talks about the latest scientific discoveries in mechanobiology, ample time for informal interactions and unforgettable social events.

Invited Speakers

Yakaterina Miroshnikova

NIH Washington, USA

Anna Labernadie

CIPF, Valencia, Spain

Julie Plastino

LPENS, Paris, France

Narayanan Arjun

NYU, Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates

Matteo Rauzi

IBV, Nice, France

Anne-Cécile Reymann

IGBMC, Strasbourg, France

Britta Trappmann

University of Munster, Germany

Léa-Laetitia Pontani

IBPS, Paris, France

Marie-Hélène Verlhac

College de France, Paris, France

Ben Fabry

University of Erlangen, Germany

Pierre-François Lenne

IBDM, Aix-Marseille, France

Robert Insall

University of Glasgow, Scotland

Vincent Studer

IINS, Bordeaux, France

Marino Arroyo

UPC, Barcelona, Spain

Ana-Suncana Smith

University of Erlangen, Germany

Daniel Cohen

Princeton University, USA

Organizing Committee

Jean-François Rupprecht

Giovanni Cappello

Martial Balland

Olivier Theodoly

Sham Tlili

Monika Dolega

Thomas Boudou